

Kindly supported by
Neal's Yard Remedies

NO MORE BREAST CANCER

TACKLING AN ENVIRONMENTAL DISEASE

On the eve of Breast Cancer Awareness Month

The No More Breast Cancer Campaign Rachel Carson Centenary Event

Special screening of the film Invisible, with panel discussion to follow.

Friday 28th September
2007

7.30 for 8pm start
Spinnaker Tower
Portsmouth

CONTAMINATED WITHOUT CONSENT

BREAST CANCER AND OUR CHEMICAL BODY BURDEN

pesticides ☒ plastics ☒ pollutants

FREE ADMISSION

Limited seats available. RSVP by Friday 21st September 2007 (see back for details)

Discussion panel chaired by Professor Jane Plant,
Imperial College

Professor Stephen Holgate,
Royal Commission on Environmental Pollution

Elizabeth Salter Green, CHEM Trust,
formerly WWF Toxics Campaign

Caroline Lucas, Green MEP (by DVD)

Clare Dimmer, No More Breast
Cancer Campaign

Organic eats supplied by Sunnyfields
www.sunnyfields.co.uk

In her visually stunning picture, artist and film-maker Roz Mortimer leads us on a hypnotic journey to the high arctic. Featuring testimonies from leading environmental scientists and women from the Inuit community, Invisible tells the story of how man-made chemicals are building up in our bodies and being passed from mother to child.

'For those in whom cancer is already a hidden or a visible presence, efforts to find cures must of course continue. But for those not yet touched by the disease and certainly for the generations as yet unborn, prevention is the imperative need.'

Rachel Carson

Silent Spring by Rachel Carson, founder of the modern environmental movement.

Copyright © 1962 by Rachel L. Carson, reprinted by permission of Frances Collin, Trustee

Born 1907, died of breast cancer 1964

Organic eats supplied by Sunnyfields
www.sunnyfields.co.uk

A campaign of Breast Cancer UK.
Registered Charity Number 1088047

Spinnaker Tower by public transport (recommended):

Portsmouth Harbour railway station, and the Hard Interchange, are 5 minutes' walk from the Gunwharf Quays, the Historic Dockyard, and the Spinnaker Tower.

By road: From the M275 follow the brown tourist signs for the Spinnaker Tower, the Historic Dockyard, and Gunwharf Quays. Parking at Gunwharf Quays; if full, please follow signs to alternative sites. More on car parking at www.spinnakertower.co.uk

FREE ADMISSION

Limited seats available.

RSVP by Friday 21st September 2007 to:

info@nomorebreastcancer.org.uk

Tel 0845 680 1322

Kindly supported by
Neal's Yard Remedies

NO MORE
BREAST CANCER

TACKLING AN ENVIRONMENTAL DISEASE